Hiroyuki Sawano – 「ashes」 “Suite” [vocal: gemie]

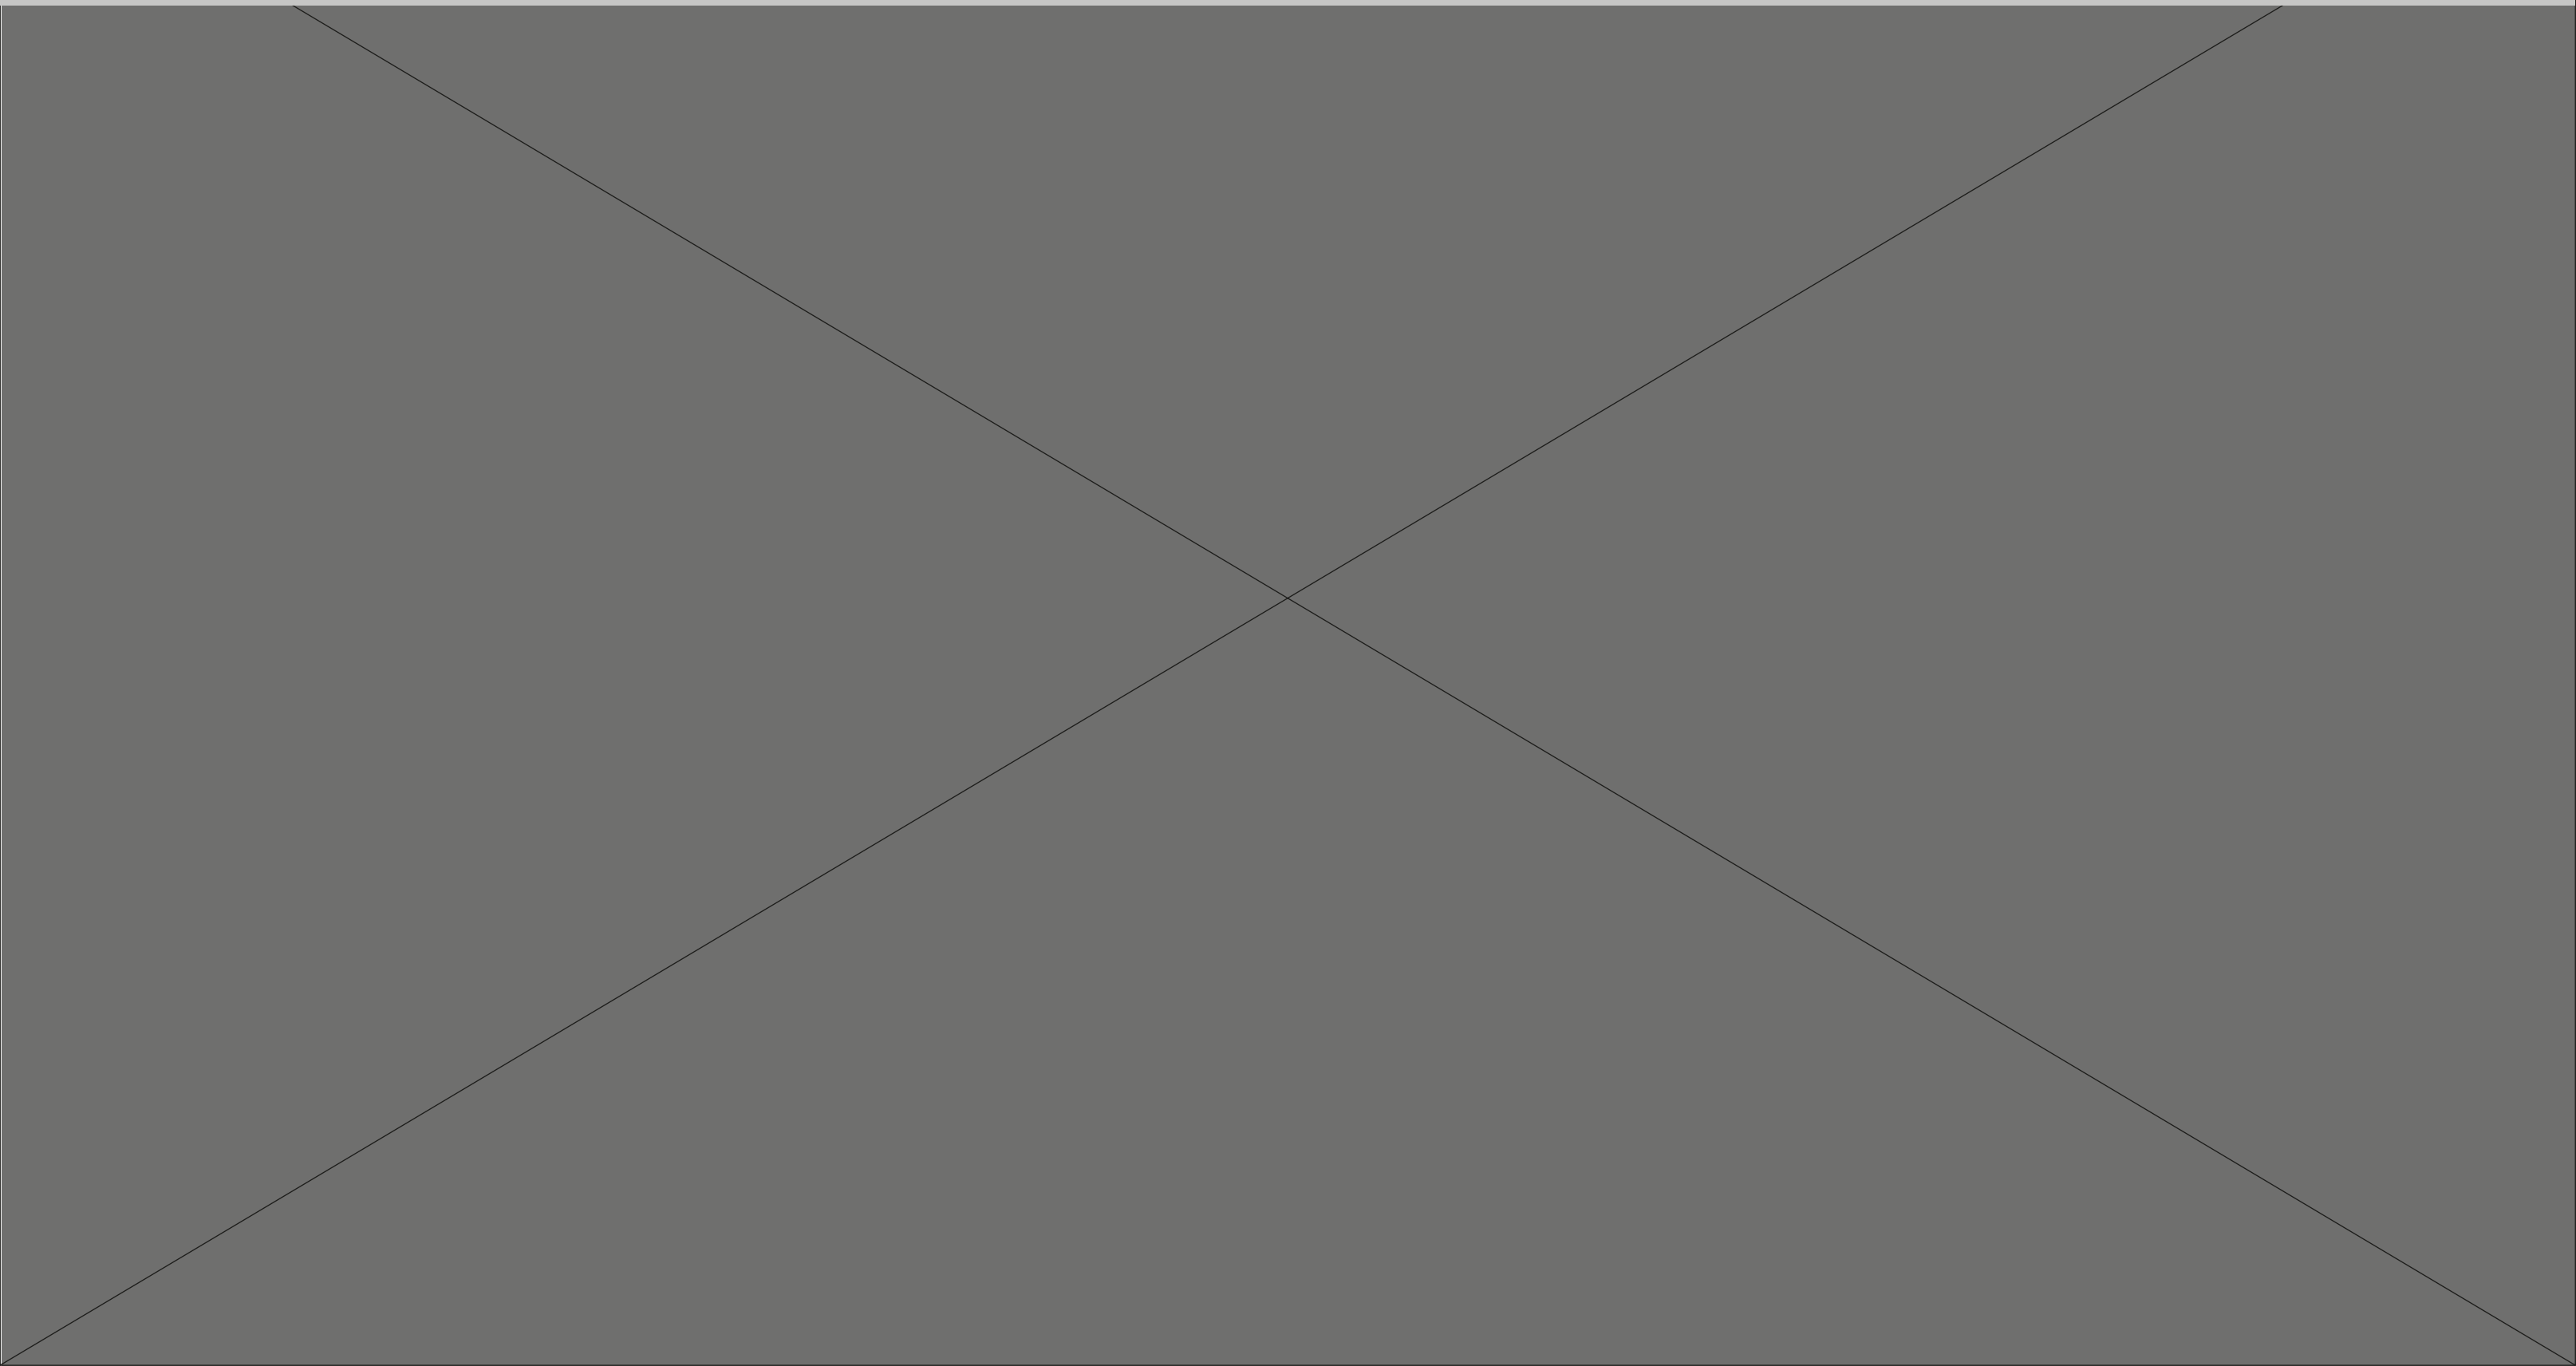

The song acts as a theme for Lio's despair similar to NEXUS. This goes along with the song's placements. Also like NEXUS, both songs use a female vocalist to balance out genders.

Call Your Name

An alternate version sung by Gemie was produced for the end credits sequence of Wall Sina, Goodbye: Part One.

Who Am I

Hiroyuki Sawano is a Japanese musician and composer who has written soundtracks for a string of popular anime series including all three seasons of Attack on Titan, Kill la Kill, Mobile Suit Gundam Unicorn and the upcoming anime film Mobile Suit Gundam Narrative.

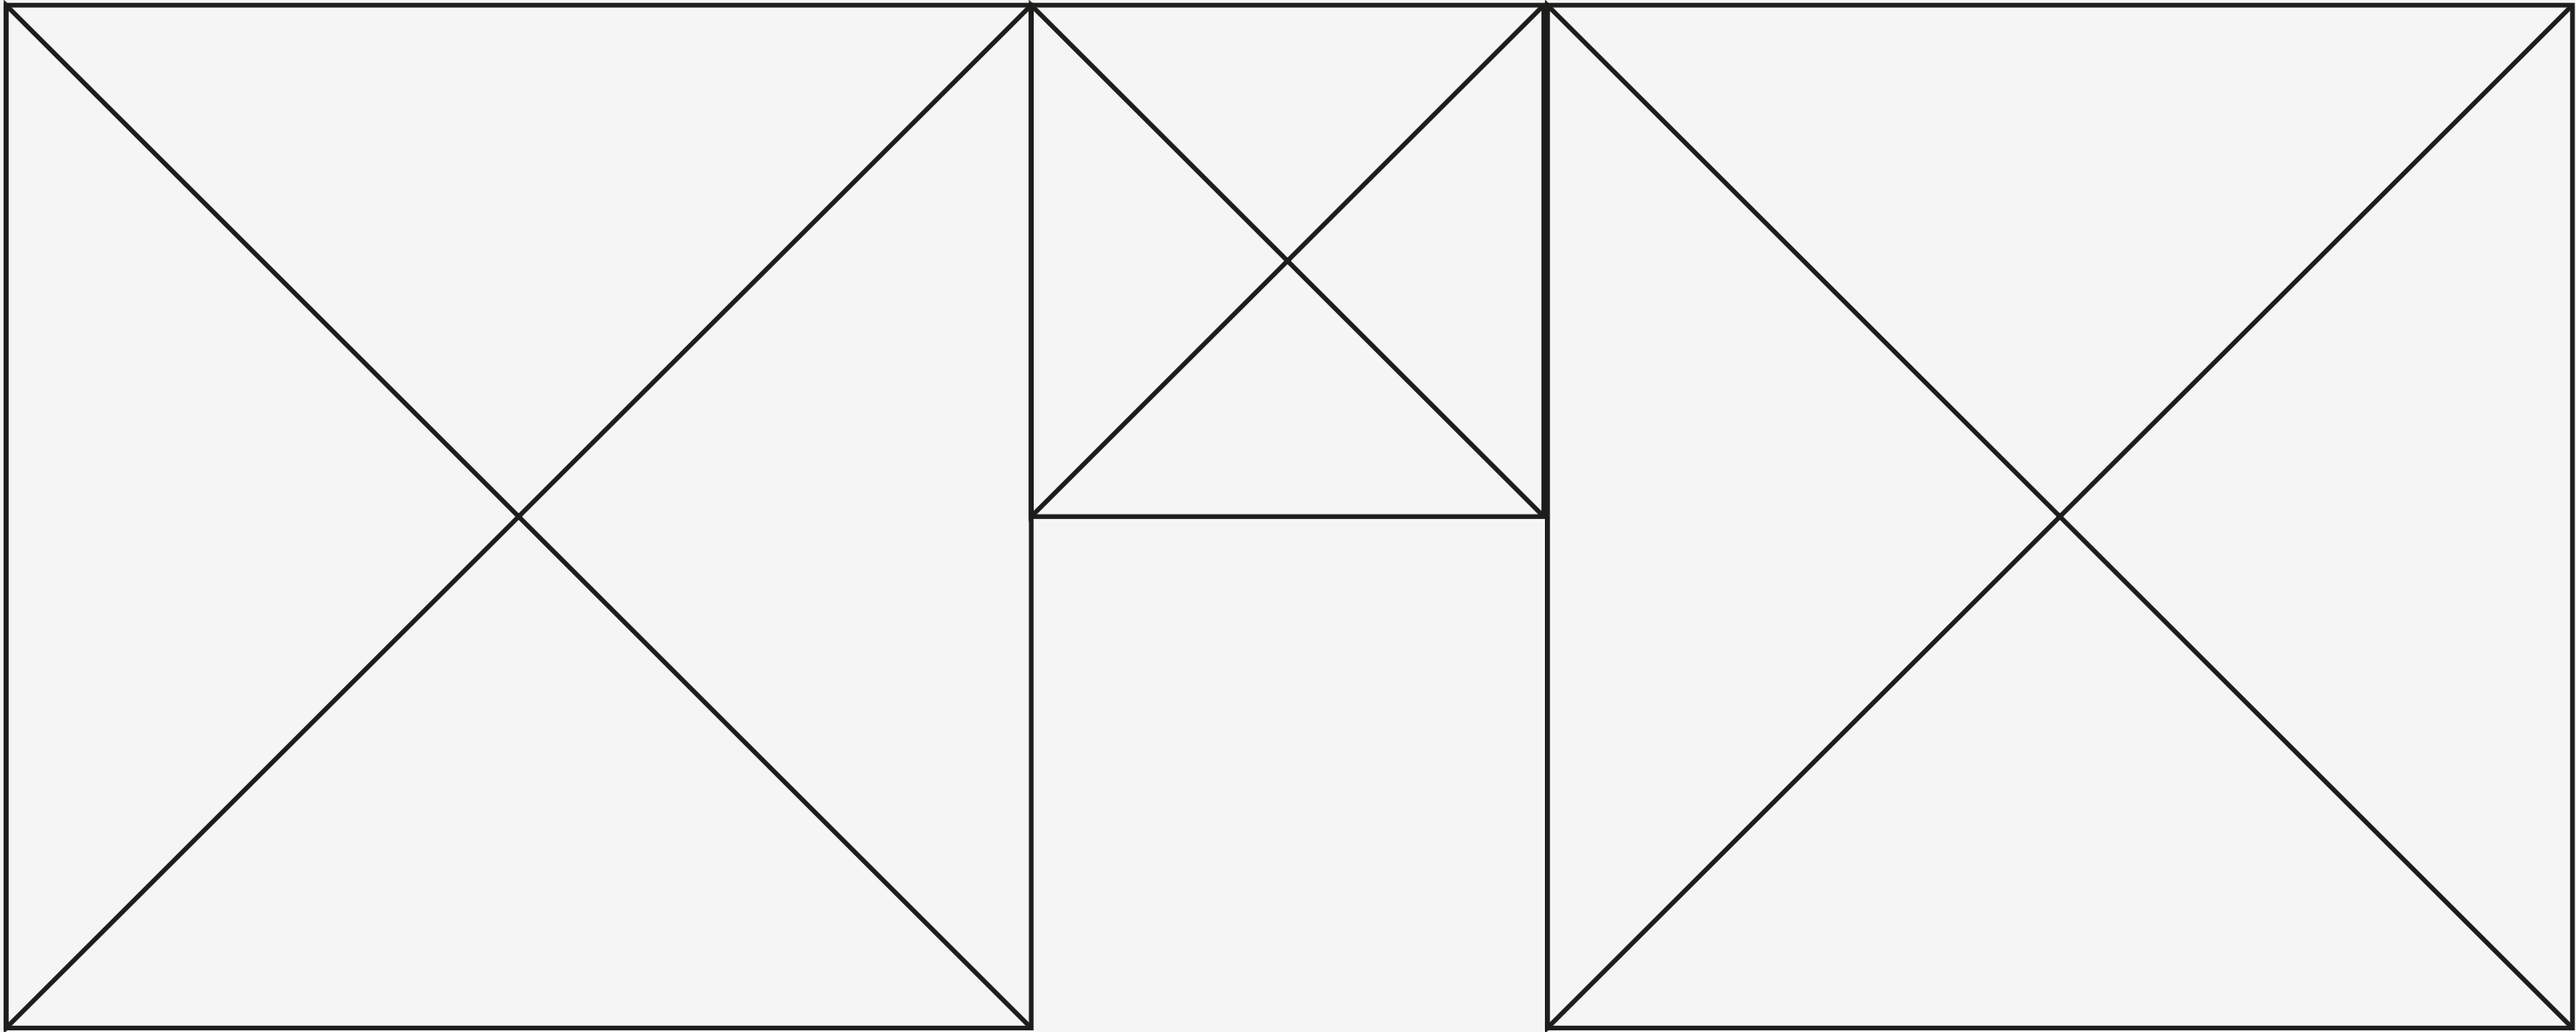

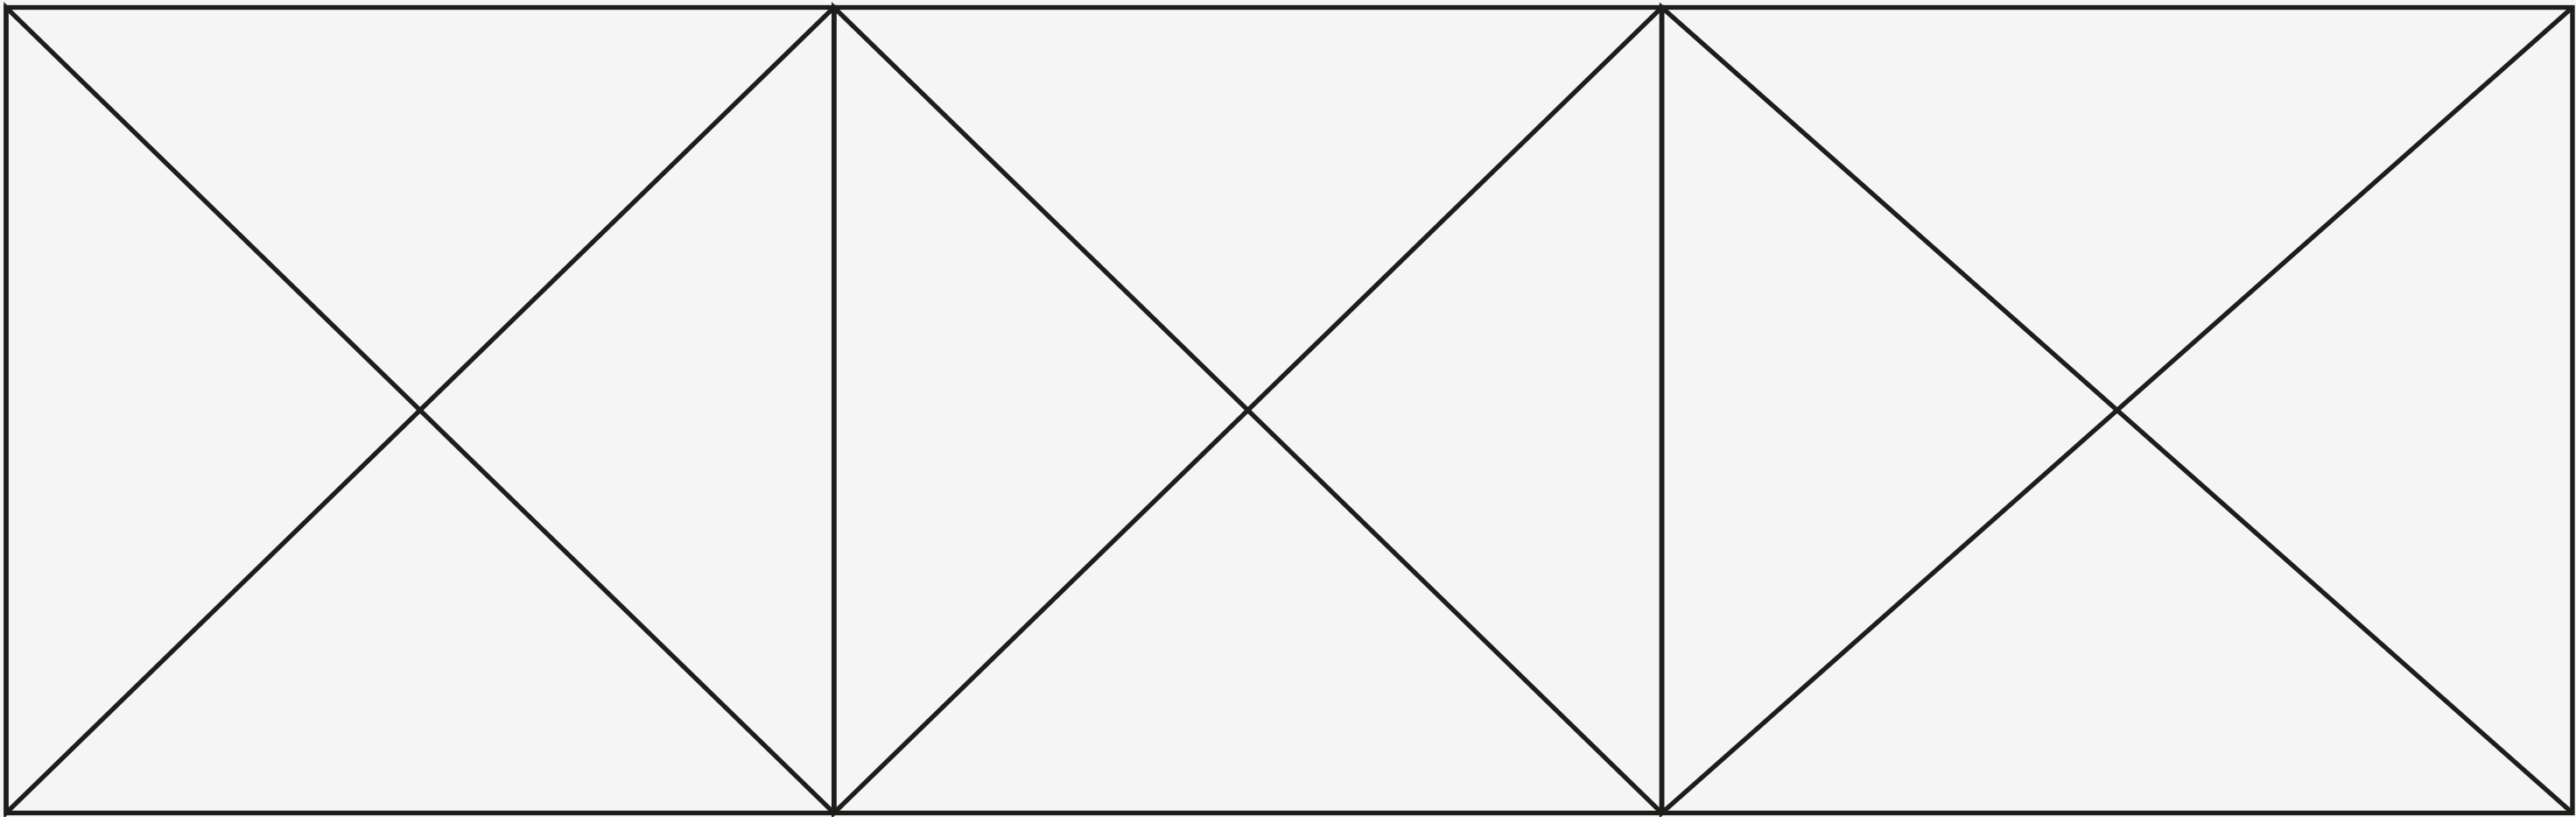

My Background

Hiroyuki Sawano was born in Tokyo, Japan. He began playing piano in elementary school. From the age of 17 he studied composition, arrangement, orchestration, and piano under Nobuchika Tsuboi. He has been active as a composer since 2004.

What Started It All

In 2014, he launched a new vocal song project under the name "SawanoHiroyuki[nZk]", producing the first album UnChild with Aimer as the vocalist under the name "SawanoHiroyuki[nZk]". Since then his songs under this vocal song project have also been used as the opening and ending themes for various anime, including Aldnoah.Zero, Seraph of the End, Mobile Suit Gundam Unicorn RE:0096, The Legend of the Galactic Heroes: Die Neue These Kaikō, and Re:Creators. Sawano's vocal song project was moved to the Sacra Music record label under Sony Music Entertainment Japan in April 2017.
